

CONFIDENCE

CONFIDENCE inspires confidence and loyalty begets loyalty. Every act of confidence and loyalty by employees is appreciated and reciprocated by the management.

To give is to receive, and playing the game fairly on both sides means giving a little each way. It is the duty of the management to see that no injustice is done to any employee, and that is what this management has tried to do.

It is the "square deal" policy which has created that pride of workmanship so manifest in every mill of the American Woolen Company. Where pride in individual work exists, each employee guarantees the high quality and workmanship of every yard of fabric produced, and each employee contributes his or her share to maintain the prestige and good will enjoyed by this company.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET CONTINUES DULL

New York, Nov. 21.—Dullness again characterized the trading in today's stock market, prices moving in a confused manner and operations being almost entirely of a professional character.

Opening prices were generally firm, but acute weakness of General Asphalt common and preferred and U. S. Rubber caused the list to turn heavy before the end of the first hour and thereafter prices bobbed up and down, generally within narrow limits, short selling against some of the standard issues giving the market the appearance of weakness at the close.

Renewed activity was noted in the sugar shares, apparently in speculative anticipation of favorable earnings statements in the forthcoming annual reports. American Sugar crossed 71 but closed just under that figure for a net gain of 1 3/4 points. Cuba Cane and Puna Alegre Sugars improved nearly a point and Cuban American Sugar advanced fractionally. Directors of the Cuban-American Sugar company are expected to reach some decision tomorrow regarding the company's $19,000,000 surplus.

Standard Railroad shares generally showed slight recessions on comparatively small turnovers, neglect of these issues being attributed to the uncertainty concerning the railroad legislative program of the present congress. The first of the October railroad reports to make their appearance was the Kansas City Southern, published today, which showed an increase in both gross and net revenues as compared with September, but a decrease as compared with the same month last year. However, this was not generally regarded as a representative case and was not as closely scanned by the financial community as will be the reports of the larger trunk lines. President Willard's declaration to stockholders that the shipmen's strike cost the Baltimore and Ohio railroad between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 had a bearish effect on sentiment as regards the railroad shares.

Independent steels, motors, motor accessories, chemicals and textiles all showed up well at the start, but final prices presented a varied assortment of changes. Early buying of Midvale, which touched 31, revived reports of its possible absorption by Bethlehem, but it sold off later to 29 1/4 and then rallied to 30 5/8 for a small fractional net loss. U. S. Steel also eased off nearly a half while Bethlehem B. Republic and Vanadium yielded at least a point each.

Baldwin, Studenaker and Corn Products enjoyed brief periods of strength but crumbled under the short attacks in final trading. Corn and Corn Products dropping 1 1/2 and 1 1/2, respectively, while Studenaker yielded a cent. In the latter buying demonstration moved up 1 1/2 points in response to the 23 1/2 per cent stock dividend and a similar gain was registered by American Can in the last hour. Consolidated Gas shook off some of its recent heaviness, advancing more than 2 points.

Publication of President Harding's ship subsidy message breathed a little life into marine issues, which advanced sharply. Early buying of Marine common and preferred and American International closing at slight fractional losses while United Fruit sold on a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Cash money opened and ranged at 4 1/2 per cent, advanced to 5 and thence to 5 1/2, where it closed. Business in time money continues on a 5 per cent basis. Trading in commercial paper was moderately active, the ruling rate for prime names being 4 1/4 per cent. Foreign exchange opened firm in reaction of the higher London quotations, but later developed marked weakness. U. S. dollar sterling which touched $4.49 1/2 yesterday, slipped off to $4.48 1/2 today while French francs slipped from 2.41 to 2.40.

BOND MARKET

New York, Nov. 21.—Irregularity marked today's relatively quiet dealings in bonds, gains slightly outnumbering the losses in active issues at the close. In the foreign division, Rio De Janeiro 8's of 1946, Denmark 8's, Zurich 8's, Selsa 7's, and Paris-Lyon-Mediterannee 4's all advanced 1 point. In the domestic division, the buying being for British account, while Mexican 5's, Bolivian 5's, and Czechoslovakian 5's all moved up 1/2 point. Sugar and copper company liens were in good demand in the industrial list, apparently in response to the better stock prices. Gain of a point or more were scored by Cuba Cane 8's, Punta Alegre 7's, Eastern Cuba Sugar 7 1/2's, Chile Copper 7's, Cerro de Pasco 8's, Lackawanna Steel 2's of 1920, Producers and Refiners 8's and Liggett and Myers 5's. Some heaviness was noted, however, in United Drug 4's, New York Steam 8's, United Drug 8's and Bush Terminal company 8's.

Railroad mortgages which moved to higher ground included St. Paul preferred 4's, St. Louis Iron Mountain and River and Gulf 4's, Erie convertible 4's, series D, and New Orleans, Texas and Eastern 4's. Erie and Alton 3 1/2's broke nearly 2 points and losses of 1 to 1 1/4 took place in Wabash firsts, Seaboard consolidated 4's, Minneapolis St. Louis preferred 4's, St. Paul general 4's of 1925 and Erie prior lien 4's.

U. S. government issues held steady, the largest gain being in Liberty 3 1/2's, which advanced 10 cents to 126.000. Total sales (par value) were $10,196,000.

Chicago Grain Market.
Chicago, Nov. 21.—Good buying which developed in the wheat market today brought about a material advance in prices after an early decline. Sharp reaction of the Australian, estimated exportable surplus had some effect as a bullish factor. The market closed strong, 24 to 2 1/2-cs net higher, with Dec. 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2, and May 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2. Corn gained 1/4 to 1/2-cs to 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2. Oats 1/2 to 1/2-cs to 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 1/2. Provisions, the outcome varied from the decline to a rise of 1/2-cs. New estimates of the Australian exportable surplus of wheat put the total at 50,000,000 bushels, as against estimates of 40,000,000 bushels. It was the fact that pit offerings of wheat here seemed to have been completely absorbed, which more than the Australian news, however, led to the rally in the market. Seaboard interests and shorts were conspicuous in the renewed buying, and there was also liberal purchasing here against sales at Winnipeg. Earlier, the bears had an advantage owing to advice of favorable weather for the Argentine harvest. Domestic reports of a better supply of cars, with consequent likelihood of enlarged receipts, tended also to ease values during temporary absence of important buying. The market moved up rapidly, though, when in the last part of the session, the pit became bare of offers and attention was given to prospects that the Australian crop would be low normal. Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Provisions were easier at the start, but steadied later as a result of a little buying on the part of packers.

Norwich, Conn., November 21, 1922.

J. P. BARSTOW & COMPANY,

23-25 Water Street, Norwich, Conn.,

Gentlemen:—As a member of The Round Oak Pipeless Furnace Club of thirty-one members, I was fortunate enough to be the lucky one to win the furnace at the drawing which was held at your store on Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock. I am very much pleased with the furnace which I find very satisfactory in every way. One of the many features that please me, is that all the drafts are regulated from the first floor, saving me many steps going up and down stairs. It requires very little fuel to operate and gives warm moist heat all over the house.

Before leaving your store Saturday night I was pleased to receive a check for the amount previously paid in, and also a receipt in full for the furnace completely installed, so that my furnace was absolutely free.

Thanking the company for their prompt service, and assuring them that I am in every way satisfied with my new furnace, I am

COLUMBIA

A complaint by Frank Bogue of Columbia against Leone Zollette of Stafford, who was charged with intoxication and breach of the peace on Nov. 13th, was brought to trial on Monday afternoon, the 20th, before Justice of the Peace Hubert P. Collins at the town hall, Columbia. The prosecution was conducted by Dwight A. Lyman, grand juror, and Robert Pike of Stafford. Mr. Bogue testified that on Nov. 13th he went away between 10 and 11 a. m. to look up some work and that on his return his housekeeper, Mrs. Hazen, who admitted that she was Mrs. Zollette, introduced him to a man Mr. Zollette, whom she said she had worked for at Stafford Springs. Bogue said the man and woman talked loudly in the house, so he told them to get out. Zollette accused Bogue of having something in the house that he wanted, but on being told to go, he said "He no go."

They then went into the yard and Bogue telephoned to the state police. On coming back to his yard in his automobile Bogue said Zollette hit him on the arm as he was leaving the car, whereupon Bogue hit Zollette. Then Bogue hit Zollette three times, breaking his nose, cutting his face badly and blackening his eyes, from the results of which he has been in a hospital during the past week. On cross-examination Bogue admitted that he had served a sentence of two years in Wethersfield for theft. He said he did not know that his housekeeper was Zollette's wife.

Zollette testified that she was married to Zollette about five years ago and had previously been married to Charles Hayden, who she claimed had obtained a divorce from her, according to information she had received from her relatives, but she had never received any information to that effect from any court. About nine months ago she came to Columbia as a housekeeper for Mr. Bogue.

She said that Zollette had something to drink in the barn and gave her some of it which Zollette testified was poison. She said that Zollette had something to drink in the barn and gave her some of it which Zollette testified was poison.

Zollette gave his testimony through his son Ernest, who acted as an interpreter. He testified that Bogue hit him first, that he was not drunk, that Bogue hit him with a club, and that he called to see his wife and obtain pictures she had of his children.

Lawyer Pike moved to discharge the defendant, as he had a right to call upon his wife. D. A. Lyman, grand juror, claimed that although Zollette ostensibly called to see his wife, he really went there to make trouble. Justice Collins in rendering his opinion decided that the charges had not been proven and discharged the defendant. Costs in the case amounting to $13 were charged to the town.
